

KOREAN MAJOR (effective F14)

Placement in Language Courses

All students who wish to take an Asian language course at UCLA must take the appropriate language placement exam (see ALC website for more information). The exam determines which course is most appropriate for the student's current level of proficiency. Students who have obtained college credit for a class may not repeat those courses for credit.

LOWER DIVISION PREPARATION

- Intermediate Korean (completion of Korean 6, 6A, 10 or equivalent)

AND

- ONE (1) of the following Korean civilization/religion courses:
Korean 40, Korean 50 or Korean M60

UPPER DIVISION MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

*All upper division courses are numbered 100 and above

- FIVE (5) upper division language courses in Korean

100A, 100B, 100C, 101A, 101B, 101C, 102A, 102B, 102C, 103A, 103B, 103C, 104A, 104B, 104C, C105A, C105B, C105C, 106A, 106B, 106C, 107A, 107B, 107C, CM120, 130A, 130B, 165, 176 or 178

- ONE (1) upper division courses in Korean literature:

130A*, 130B*, 150 or 151

*Korean language pre-requisite

- THREE (3) upper division courses on Korea:

*You may also select any of the courses listed in the above categories as long as you have not already used the course(s) to fulfill another major requirement.

106SL, CM127, C149, 154, 155, CM160, 165, 172, 175, 177, 180A, 180B, 180C, 181, 182, 183, 184A, 184B, 185, M186, 187, 191A or 191B

- TWO (2) upper division elective in Asian, China, Japan, South Asia or Southeast Asia (includes Vietnamese electives):

The Asian Languages and Cultures Honors Program is open to Korean majors with a 3.5 departmental and a 3.0 overall grade-point average. Students should apply for admission by Winter Quarter of their junior year. Please ask an ALC Advisor for details.

Counseling Hours: M-F 9:30am to 11:30am and 1:30pm to 4:30pm Office: 290 Royce Hall
Counseling Email: alcgen@humnet.ucla.edu www.alc.ucla.edu